

Department of Bible Translation and Literacy—DTA EELC

The Department of Bible Translation (DTA) in the Evangelical Lutheran Church in Cameroon (EELC) coordinates communications, capacity building, follow-up and decision making for Bible translation, literacy and Scripture engagement programs. The current focus is to make God's Word accessible to at least 12 language communities.

The DTA evaluates each program's budget before approval and assesses financial activities. Regular meetings are held with translation project personnel. DTA staff evaluate and respond to scheduled reports from literature centers, responding to meet any needs. Technical support is available when requested.

There is growing demand for these and other services provided by the DTA. Current funding is not adequate to cover the expenses that will be incurred. Additional training will expand the skill set of DTA staff, making them more effective as they offer assistance to language projects. Translated Scripture already available in print will be circulated more widely. Phone apps and audio Scripture players will reach more people.

The work of the DTA is vital if the people of Cameroon are to grow in grace and knowledge of their Savior. The Scripture materials produced today will continue to be available for the benefit and education of generations to come.
