FINANCIAL CONSTRAINTS PREVENTED PASTOR SANU from attending school. Literacy training received through The Institute of Sierra Leonean Languages (TISLL) qualified him to teach Krio at the village junior secondary school. “My wife and several church members can now read the Krio Bible!”

Bible translation in local languages is pivotal if people are to engage in the Word of God. Many are eager to grasp God’s Word better, but low literacy rates among the Krio people prevent them from reading Scripture. The Krio Literacy and Scripture Engagement Program transforms people’s lives through literacy and the ability to read God’s Word in a language they understand.
