Your prayers and support are a blessing to the Gokana Bible Translation project! Lutheran Bible Translators joined the efforts of this project in 2022.

The Gokana people only have half of God's story of salvation in their hands. The New Testament was updated in 2001, but the Old Testament is still in need of vital checks, such as spelling and word list review.

Team members received Paratext training, a vital step in the translation project. Paratext is a specially created Bible translation software that provides advanced tools and resources for translation teams. Translation is a multi-step process and attention to detail is important. Dedication and perseverance will put God's Word into the heart language of the Gokana people.
