BANDI SPEAKERS NEED THE FULL BIBLE. The New Testament is available, but that is only half of the Bible – only half the story of God's Word.

People cannot understand the New Testament fully without the books of the Old Testament in their language. They are using the English version now, but most people do not understand it well.

Church leaders are calling for the translation of the Old Testament. They want their communities to have access to the full account of God's plan. The complete translation of the Bible equips communities to read, study, understand and share God's Word.

The Bandi church will continue to grow as more people have access to the complete story of God's Word.
