PARTNERS DRIVE LONG DISTANCES TO WORK with language groups who are at various stages of translation and language development. Dangerous road conditions increase the risk of accidents. Washed out roads and potholes result in increased wear and tear on tires, suspension, and axles. A robust, reliable vehicle is needed to handle rough terrain and safely deliver partners to their destinations.

Buying a vehicle overseas can be challenging and expensive. And when the inevitable happens - from flat tires to faulty transmissions - repairs are costly and time-consuming. Delays in travel means cancelled meetings, interruptions in language project progress, and extra stress to a demanding job.

Safe, reliable transportation allows partners to continue their work to spread God's Word.
