THE TRANSLATION OF THE NEW TESTAMENT into the Limba language allowed literate pastors to preach in their native language. Local church leaders recognize a greater need for literacy in their communities if people are to engage with the Word of God. More than 35 literacy classes have been established among the Limba areas of Tonko and Sella Limba Chiefdoms.

Beneficiaries of the literacy and Scripture engagement programs testify how the program has contributed to changing their physical and spiritual lives. Others testify the improvement that has taken place in their lives, from being a common man to a notable man in society. Literacy and Scripture engagement programs are critical for the Limba community and churches.
