Alvina Federwitz's Thanksgiving Calendar

Sunday	Monday	Tuesday	Wednesday	Thursday	Friday	Saturday
30. Praise God for all of you who continue to keep me in your thoughts and prayers. It's my privilege to pray for you, too, so keep the phone calls, cards, and letters coming.	  Make thankfulness your sacrifice to God. Psalms 50:14a (NLT) 					1. This Thanksgiving, I am thankful for the ability to walk and write, even though arthritis is seemingly invading my body and causing ongoing degeneration of my spine and carpal tunnel in my hands.
2. Jonathan Federwitz is enjoying his job of training pilots heading to the mission field and has especially enjoyed flying with his missionary pilot son, Nathan.	3. Carrie Federwitz is thankful for her time working at JAARS, getting pilots ready for the mission field, and for orchestrating the beautiful weddings of two of their daughters.	4. Nathan and Sarah Federwitz are thankful for completing their training and preparations needed for their work in Papua New Guinea, starting in the new year, where Nathan will serve as a missionary pilot.	5. Great-grandson, EJ Federwitz, was blessed with a brother, JJ, in March, both of whom have blessed the family in ways only little ones do.	6. Josiah Federwitz loves his job as a mechanic at the Ford garage in Concordia, MO. He also serves with the fire department there and is presently training to be an EMT.	7. Rachel (Federwitz) is delighted to be Mrs. James Buhler now. They are living in Port Washington, WI, as she completes her last year at Concordia University Wisconsin.	8. Anna DeLoach is grateful for how God has blessed her time at Asbury University. She will graduate in May with a degree in Equine Assisted Services to help children with mental health and physical challenges.
9. Julia Federwitz is again teaching 1st graders this year at a Christian school in Florence, SC. She loves teaching and feels blessed to have a lovely apartment and a wonderful roommate.	10. Joshua DeLoach is thankful for the numerous scholarships he was awarded for Liberty University, where he is pursuing a degree in mechanical engineering.	11. Danny DeLoach is grateful to be a part of helping the last languages in Papua New Guinea get started on Bible translation through the work of the local church.	12. My daughter, Becca DeLoach, is thankful for the opportunity to disciple the next generation through home and church ministry.	13. Michaela (Federwitz) Odle and her husband, Benen Odle, both have jobs that they enjoy and have recently become homeowners of a lovely home in Stileville, IN.	14. David Federwitz is in a doctoral program that will help him develop his global leadership skills. He serves as LBT Director of Partnership and Scripture Engagement in the USA and around the world.	15. Valerie Federwitz is a certified Nutrition Therapist Master. She serves LBT as a Nutrition & Wellness Consultant. She supports the well-being of LBT missionaries and staff.
16. Wesley DeLoach, who is my youngest grandchild and in 8th grade, humbles me with his computer skills and is grateful for good Christian friends who surround him.	17. Leah (Federwitz), who is now Mrs. Freddie Yarita, is looking forward to returning to Papua New Guinea to teach at UIS and being there with her husband, Freddie, who will be working in Aviation.	18. Hannah Federwitz was made the section leader of the second sopranos in the women's choir (Cantamus) at Concordia University in Seward, NE. She achieved this as a college sophomore.	19. Thank God for faithful Liberian workers, who, despite aging, health concerns, and financial needs, continue to do the work of LIBTRALO, training Liberians how to use God's Word in their local languages.	20. Praise God that the Dan and Maan translation teams are in their final stage of setting up the whole Bible for printing. Praise God for Bible translation consultants, Slager and Grossmann, who facilitate this.	21. Thank God for the Bandi translators who are working long, hard hours and giving up the comforts of home to translate the Old Testament, which they hope to complete in the next few years.	22. JoyAnna Federwitz is enjoying her Senior year at St. Paul Lutheran High School in Concordia, MO, and is checking out schools near her that will prepare her for the world of cosmetology.
23. Paul Federwitz, LBT Chief Programs Officer, who is responsible for all LBT missionaries, praises God for an opportunity to work with LBT staff at home and missionaries around the world.	24. Ali Federwitz is thankful for her family's smooth transition from life in Africa to Concordia, MO. She enjoys using her own experience and training to help LBT missionaries deal with challenging situations.	25. Levi Federwitz is a Senior at St. Paul Lutheran High School in Concordia, MO. He's looking for a college with a good Christian environment that offers mechanical engineering.	26. Eden Federwitz, a Sophomore at St Paul Lutheran High School, loves singing in the high school choir. Eden excels in cross-country running.	27. Thanksgiving Day - Thank God for the people around the world who are receiving God's Word in their heart language thanks to translators and those who support this work.	28. PFC Micah Federwitz is thankful for a quick transition into military life at Fort Campbell and being able to find a good church.	29. My growing Family (see photos on the back) - I am thankful that they are all God fearing and serving the Lord with their unique gifts.
